

AUSTRALIAN FAMILY PARTY

Media Release 8 March 2026

The Magnificent Seven

As the 2026 South Australian State election campaign hits top gear, seven political parties have joined forces to make what is destined to be a significant impact on the election.

The pivotal moment of the campaign came when Gerard Rennick's People First Party, the Heart Party (formerly IMOP – the Informed Medical Options Party), the DLP, the Great Australian Party, the Australian Federation Party and the Libertarians all committed to supporting one Party – the Australian Family Party – at this election.

"I am pleased to announce that People First is supporting the Australian Family Party at the forthcoming SA election. If we want government to be for the people, then it has to be by the people. Building a strong grassroots movement is vital if we are to make that happen. It is our intention to formally merge our two parties after the election."—Gerard Rennick, President, People First Party

"The HEART Party is proud to endorse and support the Australian Family Party. As a party committed to Health, Accountability, Transparency, Individual Rights, Environmental stewardship, and a strong, thriving Economy, we believe the Australian Family Party reflects these shared values and is well placed to represent them in the South Australian Parliament. We strongly encourage our members, supporters, and all South Australians who share our values to cast their vote for the Australian Family Party."—Michael O'Neill, President, HEART Party

"South Australian Election—DLP Supports Australian Family Party. South Australian DLP members and supporters and others who are committed to traditional Christian values are urged to vote for the Australian Family Party in the state election on Saturday 21 March 2026."—Richard Howard, National Secretary, DLP

"So many smaller parties getting behind Bob Day's Australian Family Party is magnificent! It is a testimony to both Bob's standing in the political realm, and the Australian Family Party's genuine pro-Australia, pro-South Australia policies."—Rod Culleton, Party Leader, Great Australian Party

"We are committed to supporting the Australian Family Party at the upcoming South Australian State Election." Whatever we, as a party, can do – including encouraging our members to support the Australian Family Party at pre-polls, polling booths, scrutineering and more – we will do."—Glenn O'Rourke, National Director, Australian Federation Party

"The Libertarian Party SA is proud to formally endorse Bob Day for the upcoming South Australia state election on March 21. Bob brings a wealth of experience and a tireless commitment to individual liberty, free markets, and limited government." —Libertarian Party SA
